1. The finals for the 5th Annual Gurrie Geography Bee were held yesterday after school. After intense competition the final field of ten contestants was narrowed down to our top three finishers. Seventh grader Andrew Follenweider captured third place in the contest, while fellow seventh grader Sammy Kogen fought his way to a second place finish. Congratulations to seventh grader, Charlotte Lange, who turned in a near perfect performance to capture the title of Bee Champion. Charlotte will take the qualifying test on Thursday in a bid to advance to the state competition. Thank you to all of you that came out to support the Bee contestants and those of you that competed in this year's competition."
2. IMSA Fusion will meet today after school in Ms. Calder's room. Please see one of the coaches if you cannot attend.
3. Would you like to get Starbucks delivered to your classroom in the morning? How about lunch from Portillo's? These are some of the prizes you can win by collecting donations for the $5 for Kids campaign. For every $5 you bring in, you have a chance to win! Submit donations in an envelope with your name and advisory to the office or your advisor by this Friday to participate in the first drawing!
